Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 13 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rain to begin, before turning drier into the week.

This Evening and Tonight:
Into the evening heavy rain, possibly thundery at times, moves into the west of the region. However, this soon clears north, leaving just the odd shower for the rest of the region overnight. Remaining cloudy throughout. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tuesday:
A wet start in the east, with heavy and possibly thundery rain. Into the afternoon rain then clears northwards turning conditions drier, brighter and warmer but feeling muggy. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Misty starts in places on Wednesday and Thursday, then becoming fine and largely dry with sunny spells, feeling warm in these. Wet and windy Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.